JOINT SESSION.

REPRESENTATIVES' HALL, THURSDAY.

Dec. 18, 1856, 11 a. m.

The two Houses met in Joint Session according to previous arrangement

The President of the Council presiding

His Excellency the Governor presented the following Message, which was read by Mr. James Ferguson, Chief Clerk of the House to the Honorable Council, and House of Representatives of Utah Territory

GENTLEMEN—

It is with pleasure that I embrace the opportunity again afforded to present for your consideration those matters of interest which pertain to the growth, prosperity, advancement and well being of our young and thriving Territory.

Through the blessings of an Allwise Providence we have been favored with peace, quietness, general health and a fair portion of the bounties of the earth, partially compensating for the losses of crops and stock of the previous year.

Let our gratitude and praise be given unto the Lord of Hosts for these mercies and favors, and with them may wisdom and understanding continue to flow unto us.

In accordance with acts of the Legislative Assembly, a Constitution was formed and adopted, the census taken, and delegates chosen to present our application to Congress for admission into the Union as a Sovereign and Independent State. Recent advices from our delegates show that our application has not been presented, owing to the intolerance evinced by the predominant party in the House of Representatives.

The enumeration of the inhabitants showed a population of near 77,000 in this Territory, and it is presumed that the addition to our numbers, since that was taken, would amount to about twenty thousand. This gives an aggregate equal to or exceeding the ratio of representation for Congressmen, removing every objection, if any were made, to our admission, on the score of insufficient population.

The financial condition of the Territory being sound, but little need be said on that subject. The accompanying reports of the Auditor of Public accounts and Treasurer, however, show the small balance of three hundred dollars and eighty-eight cents against the Territory, if the assessments were all collected; Auditor's warrants in circulation amounting to \$6032.38, a lessened revenue for the current year of \$2348 89, owing, it is presumed, to losses of crops and cattle, and to less than the usual amount of merchandize in market. I do not consider any increase of the $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. necessary, believing that, with the usual degree of prosperity, that rate will produce sufficient for all needful purposes.

The following appropriations have not been drawn from the treasury.—

Amount appropriated for State House arrears,	$15073 92
“ “ establishing boundary lines,	11318.00
“ “ educational purposes,	2500 00
“ “ a military school,	1000 00

It is desirable that the Legislative Assembly lend its pecuniary aid, only for the accomplishment of those objects manifestly and immediately conducive to the public interest, among which are the construction of roads and bridges, the promotion of the cause of education, domestic productions and manufactures, the public defence and the usual expenses attending the administration of Government, which last mentioned are principally defrayed by the General Government, in consideration of our still remaining in a Territorial organization.

The annual State Fair, or Exhibition of Home Productions and Manufactures, was held in Great Salt Lake City on the first three days of October last, and displayed a commendable interest on the part of the people in supplying our wants with articles of home production. There was a great variety of fruit, vegetables, cereals, stock and manufactured articles brought into competition, not so much for the prizes offered, as to gratify a laudable ambition to excel and bear the palm of superior merit and excellence. This is a harmless ambition, and worthy of still further encouragement. Policy, as well as interest, dictates that we, as a people, should rely more upon home productions for our consumption.

For the advancement and progress of our Territory, we should enact such laws as are necessary for her benefit, the development of her resources and most conducive to her interest, regardless of what other States or Territories may have seen proper to adopt. The dissimilarity of existing circumstances might make theirs a bad example or precedent for us to follow, though beneficial to them. To cull from the experience and history of the past, for the benefit of the future, seems wisdom and so it is, so far as applicable to our condition; when it is not, it betrays a lack of forecast and penetration which disqualifies and renders inconsistent those who shelter beneath the shades of precedents. To review the laws, alter and amend where necessary, and adapt them to the present wants of the people, seems to attend the duties of Legislation in this age of progression and reform.

Owing to the absence and supposed death of the Secretary, Mr. Almon W. Babbitt, and there being no probability of an appointee of the General Government arriving here before another year, I supplied the place by the appointment to that office of Wm. H. Hooper, Esq. as Secretary pro tem.

The peace of the Territory has remained uninterrupted during the year, except by a few Indians who commenced hostilities in Utah county in the early part of March, which, though soon suppressed, caused the death of seven persons, mostly herdsmen, and the loss of a large amount of stock. The depredatory Indians escaped, and have since returned to their usual haunts, except the hostile chief who has fled to the Moquis for shelter. A suitable degree of care should be exercised to provide the Territory with arms, supplies of camp equipage and amunition, to be kept in store for emergencies of a similar nature.

In conclusion, permit me to add that, while we congratulate ourselves upon the peace, union and prosperity, which so eminently attend our efforts, we continually invoke Him who rules in the affairs of men, for wisdom to enable us to perform the duties devolved upon us with ability before Him and fidelity to our constituents.

Resolved, That we deeply regret the loss of this valuable man—a man who so ably and satisfactorily presided as Speaker of this House, during its last three sessions; a man whose presence cheered and gladdened the hearts of the wise, just, and good in every department of life where he was known, and whose voice, like the dew of Heaven upon the tender plant, animated with joy and inspired with hope immortal, every sorrowful and afflicted heart; and also like the resistless current of a mighty river, it swept down before it every thing that dared to rise up to oppose the demands of justice, to rob virtue of her crown, innocence of its laurels, or truth of its merits.

As a citizen, he was kind, sociable and familiar; as a public officer, fearless and efficient; as a husband, affectionate and devoted; as a father, tender and engaging.

Resolved further, That we cherish with undying memory his invaluable services on all occasions, and especially in times of adversity and peril; and most cordially do we extend our warmest sympathy to his interesting and afflicted family, who are bereft of a husband so kind and devoted, and of a father so tender and affectionate.

Councilor Wells, chairman of the select committee on fortifications, reported:

"Your committee to whom was referred the subject of fortifications, beg leave to make the following report:

We would recommend the repeal of the act concerning fortifications, for the following among many other reasons

First The law itself has never been fully magnified, and so far as it has been, it has failed to accomplish the object and design thereof, in furnishing defences of that character upon which it would be safe to rely in the hour of danger.

Secondly. It is manifest negligence to repose confidence in an inoperative and deficient law to protect our settlements and people until peradventure we shall be awakened to a sense of our defenceless situation by the wail of the merciless savage, devastation of our property and destruction of our people.

Thirdly. The pacific policy steadily pursued towards the Indian by our Governor and Superintendent of Indian Affairs, command more genial influence among the native tribes, than all the fortifications which it would be in our power to build, and it is our belief that one thousand dollars in presents suitable to their condition and wants would do more towards protecting the inhabitants from their enmity, than twenty thousand would in erecting hostile defences against them.

In-recommending the repeal of the aforesaid act, it is not our wish to induce a sentiment among the people to scatter out, or to be negligent in taking care of themselves, their families and property, but on the contrary to still exercise a greater degree of prudence, and a much greater interest in those things which will conduce to their safety than hitherto

It is also believed that where fortifications are necessary, they can be erected without the aid of laws, which, while they fail to accomplish the desired object, only tend to oppress the people by subjecting them to unnecessary taxation. Let our bulwarks be in the breasts, and active exertion of an energetic, faithful, righteous, watchful, and resolute people, and we shall not be disappointed in the event of a war with our enemies, nor fail in our defences, whether assailed by foes from within or without

With these considerations, your committee feel to submit the subject, and ask to be discharged from further duties in relation thereto."

Miller, and John Berry, one third of Spanish Fork River for irrigation purposes,' beg leave to report that we have duly considered the same, and the remonstrance against the petition, and deem it inexpedient to extend said boundaries, and beg to report the accompanying act in relation to that portion of the petition in reference to the grant of the Spanish Fork waters," which, with the accompanying bill was read, and
